The Gardening Dog
Watch a friendship grow
Cindy Wume

There was once a little dog who lived in a rescue centre in the middle of the city.

But the little dog wasn't like all the other dogs.
She didn't chase balls, or bury bones, or dig big, deep holes.

The other rescue dogs were lively and noisy, and quickly found new homes. But the little dog was much quieter and a little shy.

She'd lived in the centre for a long time,
but nobody even knew her name.
